It is the 13th of June and this is video no 327.

You will no doubt be aware that the idea of forcing people to be vacc the news and I think it's time to look at the background to what is happening.

To start with, of course, it's important to remember that the World Health Organisation – whose enthusiasm for forced vaccination and the abuse of patients all around the world – is a sign of their collective wickedness and ignorance – is linked with the United Nations in the same way that Donald Trump is linked to his hair. You can't have one without the other.

So, we need some vitally important background.

When the American President Theodore Roosevelt had the idea for the United Nations early during the Second World War, and wrote the outline for Churchill to approve, there was a lot of fancy rhetoric about human rights and religious freedom.

However, no one involved in the UN's formation doubted that the clear, single aim was to create an organisation which would lead us directly to a World Government. That was what they said. That was the plan. As written by Roosevelt and his aides the UN charter excluded de Gaulle's France, so as not to upset Germany, and made the United States the first among so-called equals.

It's worth remembering, by the way, that one of the men responsible for the UN was John J McCloy, a former president of the World Bank, a Wall Street insider, a former partner in a law firm which represented the American portion of IG Farben – look them up if you haven't heard of them. McCloy was a Nazi sympathiser. While helping set up the UN, McCloy used his influence to stop the US Air Force bombing Auschwitz not because he was worried about killing the prisoners but because he knew how crucial the concentration camp was to German Industry. McCloy (who was, at the time, the Assistant Secretary of War) claimed that bombing the gas chambers at Auschwitz might annoy the Germans and provoke them into vindictive actions. Some found it difficult to understand precisely what "vindictive actions" he had in mind. And it was, however, McCloy's actions after the War which helped create the European Union. If you want to know more about that read `The Shocking History of the EU' by Zina Cohen.

After the War, McCloy became US High Commissioner for West Germany where in addition to releasing many industrialists who had been sentenced for war crimes, he also arranged for Nazi camp doctors and SS officers to be released or to have their sentences substantially reduced. As soon as McCloy had arranged for their release, the executives from IG Farben quickly re-joined German companies, such as Deutsche Bank. Allen Dulles, John Foster Dulles and General Patton all wanted the Germans to control Europe as a bulwark against the Soviet Union.

It was mainly due to McCloy that Schmitz, Krupp and other war criminals received no punishment at all or the sort of punishment usually regarded as suitable for small-time motoring offenders. There was a reason for all this: it was war criminals released by McCloy who helped found the European Union – an early step towards the planned World Government.

Incredibly, McCloy even arranged for Krupp to be pardoned and his record as a war criminal expunged even though Krupp's industrial empire had controlled slave labourers in 57 concentration camps.

Astonishingly, McCloy even ordered that all of Krupp's property, which had been confiscated after the War, be restored to him so that he suffered not at all.

And it was McCloy who helped the Nazis set up the European Union after the end of World War II.

This slight detour into the world of the nauseating McCloy is important because it helps define the sort of men who set up the United Nations. And they were all men by the way. Hilary Clinton wasn't a force at the time.

The Communist Party instructed its members that: "Great popular support and enthusiasm for the United Nations policies should be built up, well organised and fully articulate. But it is also necessary to do more than that. The opposition must be rendered so impotent that it will be unable to gather any significant support in the Senate against the United Nations Charter and the treaties which will follow."

And so, the Communist Party was supporting, endorsing and promoting an organisation (the United Nations) which had been set up by a bunch of American bankers.

It's crucial to remember, and never forget, that, as Professor Carrol Quigley said: "The powers of financial capitalism had a far-reaching plan, nothing less than to create a world system of financial control in private hands able to dominate the political system of each country and the economy of the world as a whole." Quigley, of course, was the author of one of the most important books of the 20th century – 'Tragedy and Hope' – a 1,300-page book, published in 1966.

And it's vital to remember that nothing that has happened in the last 100 years has been an accident. Everything has been carefully planned: the wars, the man-made climate change hoax, the endless fake pandemics, the corruption, the appeasement, the political deceits, the subsidised rioting, the recessions and the political coups. They've all been part of a carefully designed, well-orchestrated plot to replace sovereign governments with a world government run by financiers, bankers, very rich people and obedient, greedy hypocrites such as Obama, Clinton and Blair. The one thing they all have in common is that they should all be awaiting trial for War Crimes.

The UN peacekeeping force, which was set up in response to Richard Nixon was the first step towards that world government. It was back in 1950 that Congressman Richard Nixon introduced a "resolution calling for the establishment of a United Nations police force." But the United Nations didn't limit itself to a police force. Psychologists, behavioural scientists, agronomists and others were employed to work out ways to control people. Right at the beginning of the UN's life, there were plans to reduce the size of the world's population and to enforce sterilisation. (It has, of course, been reported that some widely promoted vaccination programmes were actually designed to reduce fertility.) There were also plans to destroy local police forces, to destroy local health care and education programmes and to make sure that all citizens handed in their guns. To encourage citizens everywhere to accept the idea of more State control, it was decided that rioters should be allowed to disrupt towns and cities all over the world, ostensibly campaigning against racism, climate change and other issues.

The other stuff which most people associate with the UN, and which encourages celebrities to work with their various programmes is all window dressing – all done to make people think that the UN is a peace-loving, decent organisation run by good, kind people with honest intentions – all of them having much in common with Miss World contestants – spiritually at least.

In practice, of course, the United Nations is quite possibly the most evil organisation devised by man and the army of vastly overpaid and under-taxed renegades who work for it are traitors to mankind and will one day pay the price for their perfidy.

That's the background – which, God willing, I shall return to another day. Sadly, most people don't realise how well everything ties together. The mainstream media never mentions this stuff and the internet is awash with CIA-sponsored controlled opposition on the internet including self-styled preppers selling us enough freeze-dried cabbage to last us 30 years so that we can survive the inevitable nuclear blast. The preppers are effectively spreading the word that we have lost everything and that there is nothing we can do to defend or protect ourselves. Some of them are still strutting their funky stuff on YouTube and in my view the quick way to see if someone is controlled opposition is to see if they're still on YouTube – if they are then they're probably approved by the WEF and the CIA among others. I fear that the underlying aim of all this prepping garbage may be to make us believe that there is nothing we can do to stop the conspirators and so we might as well just lie back and get ready to enjoy our stocks of freeze-dried cabbage. Well, bollocks to all that, bollocks to them and bollocks to YouTube and Google, as thoroughly corrupt and evil as Smersh and Spectre.

What is worrying me at the moment is the resurrected, revised plan to force everyone on earth to accept a barrage of vaccinations – to be jabbed with a whole sequence of jabs which don't do what they are supposed to do but which do kill people, make them infertile and create new illnesses.

And, of course, the plot to vaccinate everyone comes from the World Health Organisation – and their refreshed plan for global dominance via the needle was slipped out quietly while the mainstream media remains obsessed with the trivial activities of a bunch of Z-list celebrities and minor royals and, occasionally, with the latest in a series of designer wars created by American conspirators and their friends in NATO.

As an aside, the latest war, in Ukraine, is of course, part of the drive, organised by the far left, the neo liberals and the billionaires who finance them, towards forming and controlling a tyrannical world government which will be happily accepted by the weary masses, who are exhausted by the constant storm of depressing news – all promoted by the ignorant, the unimaginative and the newly insane and designed to take us straight into the Great Reset, complete with wall to wall social credits, digital currencies and an entirely digital world – the sort of digital world now being put into practice by Aldi, a German company which has a shop where you can't buy food unless you've got their app on your phone. Actually, they won't even let you into their shop unless you have their app on your smartphone. They can bugger off because we don't want them or their apps. Anyone who has an App and shops at Aldi is a traitor.

There are people around who still don't realise this but the World Health Organisation is the terrorist wing of the United Nations, and for the last three years it has spread lies and fear with relentless enthusiasm. The WHO's job is to terrify the public and adapt the truth to suit the needs of the conspirators pushing for global power and a world government.

The WHO is an essential weapon in the UN's armoury. It has nothing whatsoever to do with health but is a plain and simple terrorist group and a vital part of the global conspiracy which is taking us remorselessly into the New World Order and dragging us down into the Great Reset.

The WHO is planning to bring a dangerous and unnecessary programme of compulsory vaccinations – all untested and dangerous. Disingenuous as always, they and their jack-booted commie collaborators will say, of course, that the vaccinations aren't compulsory and that if you don't want to buy food or electricity, have a bank account, keep a job or leave your home you won't need a vaccination certificate. Of course, if you do want to buy food and electricity, have a job, leave your home and generally stay alive then you'll need all your jabs but as the loathsome Turdeau would probably say they won't be compulsory. They think we're all stupid and the tragedy is that they're nearly right: most people are stupid and most people will accept everything they're told by the WHO – an organisation now infamous for its links with the vaccine hobbyist Bill Gates – a man with close links with the cuddly trio of the BBC, The Guardian and Jeffrey Epstein. Epstein is probably the only one of the three who still is alive.

In March 2020, over three years ago, I warned that they would introduce compulsory vaccinations. If you listen carefully, you can still hear the sniggers and the abuse I received at the time. Totalitarian regimes have always introduced compulsory vaccination programmes – though they've never before been planned globally and they've always failed. I also warned about digital money and the rest of the plan.

Today, there is no need for any more evidence proving that vaccines don't do what they are supposed to do and aren't safe. My book 'Anyone who tells you vaccines are safe and effective is lying' is packed with information proving that vaccine programmes aren't either. And in the autumn of 2020, I recorded a series of videos detailing exactly what problems the covid-19 jab would cause. I warned about the heart problems, the clots and the myocarditis months before those problems appeared and before the jab rollout programme. Meanwhile, of course, mainstream media propaganda outfits such as the *BBC*were lying and telling everyone that the vaccine was safe and effective.

The official figures prove that my warnings – the best part of three years ago – were absolutely accurate. The Government figures also show that there never was a pandemic and the remarketed over-promoted flu was just a pretty standard flu. The so-called vaccine, however, is one of the most toxic pharmaceutical products in history – making thalidomide look good. The sensible folk who said NO to the toxic jab are today the healthiest people left on earth.

The awful, awful truth is that the conspirators, the treacherous, evil folk who will do anything to push us towards a world government, knew exactly what would happen. The fake pandemic was designed to terrify and to teach the unimaginative to obey. The covid jab was designed to kill, to cripple and to add to the fear and to increase medical bills in order to impoverish those in countries without State health care.

The enemy has done well so far because they've controlled the media.

Our only hope now is to draw attention to their crookedness. We can prove that the mainstream media lied. We can prove that politicians and doctors lied.

Paradoxically, our biggest strength is that they have refused to debate. For well over three years, I have been challenging the liars to debate with me. I've been prepared to slum it by talking to BBC staff. And I'd be delighted to put the debate on my websites – which, I suspect, receive more visitors than most BBC news programmes.

The BBC's refusal to debate is a sign of their weakness.

And so, we should keep on challenging them. This is the way we'll win this war – not by stocking up on huge supplies of freeze-dried cabbage or community gas masks for all the family.

The BBC will probably refuse to debate because they know they'll lose. Indeed, the BBC – a State broadcaster if ever there was one – has probably been ordered by the Government not to engage in any debate. I suspect the staff all have a copy of Mao's little red book tucked into their regulation underwear.

But we should push for a debate – not just to embarrass them but because people will see that they are refusing to back up their claims and to defend their lies.

I will meet all the experts the BBC can find in a live TV studio.

I will prove that covid-19 was never a major threat to mankind and that the so-called pandemic was a fake.

I will prove that covid-19 did not cause an avalanche of deaths.

I will prove that covid-19 killed no more people than the ordinary flu.

I will prove that the covid-19 vaccine did not provide the protection it was said to provide and was never as safe as politicians, doctors and journalists claimed it to be and that it is a toxic pharmaceutical product which was wrongly promoted.

I will prove the lockdowns were never necessary and did far more harm than good.

I will prove that masks were never necessary or safe and did more harm than good. I will prove that the PCR test was useless and used to enable the authorities to falsify their covid figures.

Why should the BBC debate with me? Well, before I became officially listed by the CIA as a discredited conspiracy theorist, banned by all mainstream media and all social media for the modern, unforgiveable crime of telling the truth, I was, since the 1970s, an acknowledged expert on iatrogenesis, drug side effects and vaccines. I was the BBC's first networked agony uncle back in the 1980s and I've made numerous TV and radio series for the BBC.

As the author of the world's best-selling book on vaccines, I would love to debate with the WHO's experts but they won't, of course. I doubt if there is anyone working there who could hold their own in a debate. I suspect they're too drunk with arrogance and a sense of superiority ever to take a chance.

So, they're out.

Maybe another TV network will have employees with the guts to take me on. It has to be networked and it has to be live because I don't trust TV companies.

It'll be a fight to the death. Whoever loses will be permanently destroyed, their arguments will be forever discredited and they'll never get any more government advertising. I bet the viewing figures would be massive. I'm prepared to risk everything because I am confident I know the truth.

Send this video to all the TV stations you can think of. Let's embarrass the treacherous cretins to death. And please share this video everywhere you can.

Thank you for watching an old man in a chair. Please remember, although it may seem like it you are not alone. More and more people are waking up and once awake they don't go back to sleep.

Distrust the Government, avoid mass media and fight the lies. Please share this with everyone you know. Please remember that I am banned from all social media as well as YouTube and anything in my name on social media is fake but you can find me on www.vernoncoleman.com where I've been since long before Google and YouTube were born and more recently also on www.vernoncoleman.org.

Distrust the Government, avoid mass media and fight the lies. Thank you again for watching an old man in a chair. And remember – we have God on our side.
